

The History of our Company is the History of our Family

For five generations, our family has been dedicated to the construction, maintenance and sale of pianos.

1859
In 1835 Heinrich Schulz was born in the village of Börnecke in the Harz mountains. He learnt the art of piano construction and in 1859 became a master piano builder in the Steinweg company in the town of Braunschweig.

1865
Theodor Steinweg sold his factory to his co-workers Helfferich and Schulz and Grotrian as an investor, before he emigrated to America. In New York, Steinweg and his father started production of the world renowned Steinway & Sons pianos.

1869
The acclaimed instruments made in Braunschweig bear the name Grotrian, Helfferich, Schulz, Th. Steinweg Nachf. (= successor).

Heinrich O. W. Schulz 1835 – 1873

1873
Heinrich Schulz, who manufactured pianofortes by appointment to the royal court died at the age of 38 of pneumonia.

Albert Schulz 1864 – 1931

Günter Schulz 1907 – 1978

1888
In 1888 Albert and Franz Schulz founded the Schulz brothers (Gebr. Schulz) company in Mainz. The piano builder and designer Albert Schulz worked on developing new ideas. He patented new resonance systems. His construction of a violin with round ribs made of two massive pieces of resonance wood is just one demonstration of his ingenuity. This violin is still in the Schulz family collection today.

1931
When Albert Schulz passed away in 1931, he had managed to save the company and survive the hard times of the Great Depression. His son Günter took over the business in Mainz for six years. The business premises, as well as the home in Mainz were hit by bombs numerous times during WWII and then completely destroyed in September of 1944.

Johanna Schulz 1911 – 2000

1937
Günter Schulz married the accomplished piano teacher Johanna Fey. With her abilities and knowledge, she was the ideal companion for the business.

Erika Schulz * 1940

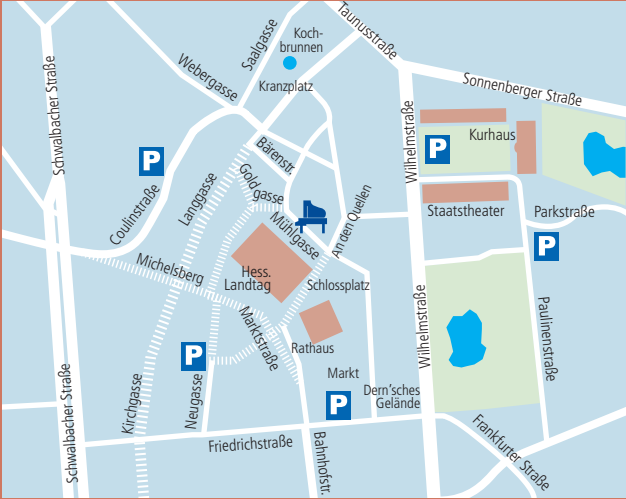

With more than 40 years of experience with keyboard instruments, Erika Schulz deepened her knowledge by completing an internship at one of the leading piano builders in Germany.

Herward Schulz * 1941

1948
With an injury, Günter Schulz was fortunate enough not to be taken as a POW in 1945, instead he was able to start rebuilding the business with the help of his wife, Johanna, in Wiesbaden.
The new company was named Piano-Schulz. Günter Schulz rode his bicycle to his customers who were as far away as Limburg and tuned people's pianos using borrowed tools.

1959
Herward Schulz started his apprenticeship at his parents' shop. In his travels around Germany and abroad, he encountered the most diverse methods used by different piano builders. His customers can rely on his competent advice.

The Grand

Playing a grand piano is truly a special experience. You are freer and have a wide range of view. Your technique is influenced as your playing becomes more nuanced.

Visually, a grand is flawlessly aesthetically pleasing as its inner workings determine its outer shape.

Our grand pianos are constructed with the best all-natural materials such as wood, felt of virgin wool and leather. The sturdy cast frame and the massive sub-frame ensure a durable long life. The sound board, made of massive mountain spruce which grew uniformly, provides a radiant range of tones. All of our models feature a sostenuto pedal.

Grand Pianos G-58 and G-86

Length 161 and 186 cm

The new G Series grand piano models owe their singing, sustaining, clear tone to Abel's high-quality natural felt hammers and Heller's high quality bass strings. The Action mechanic from Renner enables the greatest precision of control and touch.

More than 130 years ago, the Schulz brothers Albert and Franz already considered the stability of a piano as a most important feature of it's tone, thus the beauty of sound has been preserved for decades. We are still committed to this same philosophy today.

The new G-20

H 122 · L 148 · D 59 cm

Our master piano maker Christoph Schulz and his team have designed this unique piano. Featuring new innovations but still committed to tradition, upgraded, and redesigned mechanics have been developed to allow even better expression.

Featuring two-tone of ebony sharps, customers can select custom casework colours or precious solid woods according to their individual wishes.
